Exclusive collector's item for V12 enthusiasts

March 4, 2019

Affalterbach/Geneva. The limited-edition special S 65 Final Edition model from Mercedes-AMG marks the pinnacle of the 6.0-liter V12 Biturbo engine's long success story on board the S-Class Sedan. The special edition, comprising only 130 vehicles worldwide, is aimed at collectors of exclusive vehicles and fans of superlative twelve-cylinder engines. With its stylish looks and a comprehensive scope of standard equipment, this sedan embodies a unique combination of performance and prestige.

The S 65 Final Edition comes exclusively in a high-gloss obsidian black metallic paint finish. Its 20-inch forged multi-spoke wheels, air-inlet grilles in a unique matte bronze finish, and an AMG crest on the C-pillar, emphasize the sedan's special status. Tailpipe trims in high-gloss black provide a fitting finale at the rear.

The one-off character continues inside. The upholstery in Exclusive black Nappa leather with copper-colored contrasting topstitching and trim elements in high-quality carbon fiber streaked with fine copper-colored threads make the Final Edition truly one of a kind. The topstitching in the floor mats also features copper-colored contrasts. In the center console, the edition badge "1 of 130" confirms the car's limited-edition status. Other individual features include the "AMG Edition" insert on the steering wheel and the pre-configured ambient light in a copper color.

The loving attention to detail also extends into the engine compartment: the engine fitter's badge ("One Man – One Engine") comes in a special design and is finished in exclusive black instead of silver. With an output of 621 hp and peak torque of 738 lb-ft at 2300-4300 rpm, the V12 top model offers legendary driving dynamics and smooth power delivery.

The comprehensive scope of standard equipment covers every conceivable wish: from the MAGIC SKY CONTROL panoramic roof through the Warmth & Comfort package to the First Class rear suite with individual seats and extended-length luxury console including temperature-controlled cup holders – for the height of comfort and convenience on the road. Up to 12 electric motors adapt each seat precisely to the occupant's height. An outstanding highlight is the Executive seat on the rear passenger side, featuring a leg rest and backrest adjustment of up to 43.5° for an ideal resting position. The standard-specification AMG Driver's package allows a top speed of 186 mph.

To protect this valuable vehicle from dust in the garage, every customer also receives a tailor-made AMG Indoor Car Cover emblazoned with the lettering "AMG S 65 FINAL EDITION" in a color to match the edition.
